

When our neighbors in need are hurting, Camillus House is there — Just ask Rita.

Rita had lost everything. Her home, her children, her hope. But then she found her way to Camillus House and a second chance at life. At Camillus, she received food, shelter, medical care — and reason to hope that the future would be better. Today, she's working, living safely and securely at Camillus House, and looking forward to a joyous holiday season. She's already received the best present a mother could want — last month she was reunited with her children.

But many others in our community are still poor, homeless and in desperate need of help. A U.S. Census survey recently reported that Miami is the most impoverished big city in the country — and now a faltering economy has put many more families and individuals at risk.

Camillus House is committed to caring for the many in need in our community. It is our mission to extend an unconditional hand of love to our poor neighbors who are scared, lonely, and hurting. But the need is great and growing. During this season of giving, Camillus House needs you more than ever. Your generosity allows us to rescue those who have nowhere else to turn. So, please help. With your support, we'll be able to make more happy endings — like Rita's.

Please call (305) 374-1065 to help.

Caring for our neighbors in need for more than 40 years.

Camillus House, one of the area's largest and most efficient organizations combating poverty, has been serving South Florida's needy since 1960. Last year, we provided:

- ♥ 436,800 free hot meals
- ♥ 13,986 medical visits
- ♥ 2,398 social service sessions
- ♥ 9,472 outreach encounters
- ♥ 46,690 free exchanges of clothing
- ♥ 16,952 free nights of shelter
- ♥ 120 transitional housing residents

CAMILLUS HOUSE provides a full range of services to help the impoverished and homeless of South Florida get back on their feet. We help individuals and families in need with food, shelter, clothing, job training, counseling, medical care, transitional housing, and in every other way we can. Please join us this holiday season in bringing hope to those in desperate need. Thank you. Your compassion makes our community a better place for all.

YES, I'd like to help Camillus House care for the poor and homeless of South Florida this holiday season.
